Season opens Sept 7 with FREE community concert featuring 6-WIRE

Following the success of our inaugural free community concert last March, we are excited to open our season with the second, taking place Saturday, September 7 at 2:30 PM at the historic Madam Walker Theatre.

This performance will feature the pioneering trio 6-WIRE, a world music ensemble which mixes traditional and contemporary styles with piano, violin and the Chinese erhu, a 2-stringed violin. The trio will perform arrangements of traditional Chinese folksongs, as well as several popular Classical works.

This performance is open to the public and parking is free adjacent to the venue. Tickets are free, but must be reserved.

2006 Gold Medalist Augustin Hadelich embarks on four-city tour across New Zealand in late August

2006 Gold Medalist Augustin Hadelich will perform later this month with the New Zealand Symphony Orchestra in four cities across the North Island with conductor Dima Slobodeniouk. His first performance with the NZSO in 2018 "had some members of the audience in tears," according to the Waikato Times.

Hadelich will perform the Tchaikovsky Violin Concerto in Wellington (Aug 23), Rotorua (Aug 27), Auckland (Aug 29) and Hamilton (Aug 30).

Augustin will be back in Indianapolis as part of the IVCI Laureate Series on Friday, November 22 to perform works by Poulenc, David Lang, Ysaÿe, Beach, Perkinson and Ravel. Several of these works are featured on Augustin's upcoming recording "American Road Trip," which releases later this month. Learn more about the album in this interview with The Strad.
